

JESUS > RELIGION

We talked about a lot of things in our first session together. Maybe some ideas, thoughts, or questions were stirred up inside of you. It may have even opened some old wounds, but hopefully it gave you the opportunity to open up your heart and mind, let down your guard, and to consider whether or not the Jesus you've believed in (or have chosen not to believe in) is the real Jesus.

The real Jesus can change your life.

Each week you'll have the opportunity to continue searching and reflecting on what you are learning. You'll find three personal reading segments for you to complete on your own between the group times. This aspect of the study is significant to your individual growth and personal understanding of who Jesus is. Carve out time in the days ahead to dig into God's Word using the following pages as a guide.
